

Why $6 billion US-Iran deal is in spotlight after Hamas attack on Israel

[illegible]

US President Joe Biden (L) and Iranian President Ebrahim Raisi

NEW DELHI: The US-Iran deal is a prisoner swap agreement that was approved by President Joe Biden (<https://timesofindia.indiatimes.com/topic/joe-biden>) in September 2023. Under this deal, five US citizens detained by Iran were allowed to leave the country in exchange for the transfer of $6 billion in Iranian funds that had been frozen in South Korea. At the same time, five Iranians held in the United States were also allowed to leave. The $6 billion was Iranian money that had been blocked in South Korean banks after former President Donald Trump imposed sanctions on Iran's oil exports and banking sector in 2019.

The deal is in the spotlight after Hamas, a Palestinian militant group that is backed by Iran, launched a surprise attack on Israel on Saturday, October 7, 2023. The attack and Israel's retaliation have killed more than 1,100 people and sparked a humanitarian crisis in Gaza. Some Republicans, including Nikki Haley, have accused Biden of indirectly supporting Hamas by allowing Iran access to the frozen funds. They claim that Iran could use the money to fund Hamas and other terrorist groups in the region.

Iran. If the money unfrozen can only be used for food and medicine, that's OK. They would cut internal expenditure budget on those items - divert to armament. US must be a bit more careful.

However, US secretary of state Antony Blinken has denied these allegations and said that there is no evidence linking Iran to the attack. He also said that Iran has not yet been able to spend a single dollar of the $6 billion in funds that were unfrozen in the deal. "It's very unfortunate that some are playing politics at a time when so many lives have been lost and Israel remains under attack," Blinken said. He explained that the funds are still in Doha, Qatar, and can only be used for humanitarian-related purposes, such as buying food, medicine, or agricultural products for the people of Iran. He said that the US Treasury has strict oversight and due diligence requirements for the transactions involving the funds.

The US-Iran deal and the Hamas attack have highlighted the complex and volatile situation in the Middle East, where multiple actors have competing interests and agendas. The US faces a delicate balancing act of pursuing diplomacy with Iran while supporting its ally Israel and addressing the humanitarian crisis in Gaza. The outcome

Hemant Kumar, Principal Data Scientist at a leading mobile manufacturing conglomerate, said, "I decided to pursue a Master's in Communication Systems because of the fast-paced changes in the technology landscape. I recognised the need for structured learning, and IIT's reputation made it an obvious choice for upgrading my skills. The focus on communication systems, 5G-6G, and AI/ML applications was a timely and valuable opportunity."

eMasters Alumni Stories | Kumar Hemant | Communication Systems

Karandip Singh, Assistant Manager at India's leading oil corporation, identified the degree as a stepping stone in his career transition. "I saw the increasing need for cybersecurity in India's critical infrastructure. My long-term goal was to shift from software development to cybersecurity. eMasters provided the flexibility to balance work and personal life while offering a strong academic foundation, coding experience, and practical security exposure, making it instrumental in my career transition."

Herh Golberg Polin, a 23-year-old US-born, textured to his parents before he went completely unreachable following the Hamas attack on Israel. <https://timesofindia.indiatimes.com/topic/hamas>'s indiscrepinate firing at the "rave party" in the desert in northern Negev, a few kilometres from Gaza border, reported The Jerusalem Post.

Before Hamas penetrated further into Israel from its southern side, the outfit first ripped through the all-night rave party being conducted to celebrate the culmination of Israel's week-long religious festival, Sukkot.

The sudden incursion by Hamas -- through air and land -- ate into the lives of the people in the area, leaving it in complete chaos as all ran for life, evading a spray of bullets piercing the site. One among the crowd was 23-year-old Polin from California.

Polin's parents weiled up with tears as they recalled the texts they received from their son.
