RETROACTIVE ADJUDICATION AND PRELIMINARY ORDER OF FORFEITURE

Pursuant to Criminal Rule 32.2 this admiralty and maritime court can issue a General Order of preliminary order of forfeiture via before sentencing, if it cannot identify all the specific property subject to forfeiture or calculate the total amount of the money judgment, the court may enter a forfeiture order that: (i) lists any identified property; (ii) describes other property in general terms; and (iii) states that the order will be amended under Rule 32.2(e)(1) when additional specific property is identified or the amount of the money judgment has been calculated.

2 of 6

Also the entry of a preliminary order of forfeiture authorizes the Attorney General (or a designee- The 50 States ex rel Sharon Bridgewater Private Attorney General and/or Relator) to seize the specific property subject to forfeiture; to conduct any discovery this open court considers proper in identifying, locating, or disposing of the property; and to commence proceedings that comply with any statutes governing third-party rights.
